

Parts firm storms Europe

In-night parts distribution firm, ByBox, has been <sup>2256</sup> ranked 5th in the Deloitte Technology Fast 500 EMEA programme, which recognises technology companies that have achieved the fastest rates of annual revenue in Europe, the Middle East and Africa over the past five years.

Formed seven years ago, ByBox revenues have rocketed from £119,235 in 2002 to £18.3 million in 2006 – growth of 15,272 per cent. Its clients include Siemens, Coca Cola, telent, the RAC and Fujitsu.

Plans are now in place to develop the offering in the UK both within the B2B and B2C sectors as well as setting up a replica network in France which the company hopes to roll out throughout the continent.

Stuart Miller, chief executive and founder of ByBox (pictured left), says the Deloitte ranking is a “tremendous coup” and praised the commitment and dedication of his staff. “However, we are not in any way complacent,” he said. “We need to continue to break new boundaries.”

ByBox has 11 distribution centres, operates a network of 18,000 boxes at over 1,200 locations and makes 20 million deliveries per year.
