

Parts

distribution
company

ByBox has produced a

programmable recorder which it believes will reduce the risk of damage to goods in transit by tracking the trials and tribulations of rough handling.

Called the RD298 ShockLog Recorder, it is claimed to be more reliable than previous bespoke recorders and can be used repeatedly.